Detalles de la Propiedad

Título: Los Monitos- wildlife oasis retreat
Named by National Geographic as 'the most biologically intense place on Earth,' Corcovado National Park is home to 2.5% of the world's biodiversity within a relatively small area. Just 3 miles from the park's boundaries and 5 minutes from the pristine Golfo Dulce, this stunning 25-acre property offers an unparalleled connection to nature. Nestled between the towns of La Palma and Puerto Jiménez, the property is easily accessible via fully paved roads from San José, Costa Rica's capital, and is served by over 10 daily domestic flights to Puerto Jiménez.

Descripción:
The property features a main house with 3 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, a fully equipped kitchen, and an exterior corridor with views of a 260-foot-long pond—perfect for observing the abundant wildlife, including caimans, fish, turtles, monkeys, and over 100 bird species. A separate gatekeeper's house is also included. The land encompasses an oil palm plantation, secondary forest, scenic trails, and a 290-foot-tall hill with breathtaking ocean views of the Golfo Dulce and surrounding forest, making this a true piece of paradise.

Precio: $ 450,000
m² de lote: 100000
