Harmony House

This beautiful house lives up to its name, it was built and decorated based on the theory of Fen Shui, wind (feng) and water (shui).

This art is based on the Chinese cosmogony (In theories about the evolution of the universe). From the perspective of home decoration or architecture, the arrangement of the furniture in its orientation in a dining room or bedroom, for example, or the choice of materials and colors, can help us promote this harmonization.

It has a beautiful hall that leads us to enjoy integrated open spaces such as the living room, kitchen and a small dining room. Which in turn leads us to a beautiful terrace with sliding doors where we will enjoy a view towards the garden and lots of light.

The kitchen has granite countertops, wood cabinets and a window that lets in natural light, a laundry area, a guest half bath and a pantry.

Descripción:
